

Case Study Sourcing/Kitting/Fulfillment

Challenge

One of the nation's largest public universities experienced students succumbing to severe flu symptoms including Meningitis.

Taken as a serious health risk to students and a PR risk at a time of declining enrollment, the university developed a Flu Pack for distribution to every dorm student.

The school needed help to produce and distribute 20,000 flu packs as soon as possible.

Solution

Peckham designed an assembly process, and worked with the university to source the flu pack contents for urgent delivery.

We moved employees from current jobs to a new, dedicated flu pack line. We managed the packaging, labeling, kitting and complete fulfillment/distribution of the 20,000 flu packs.

Results

Flu packs were distributed to all dorm students, and campus Health Center at more than 15 campus locations within 1 week of beginning the project.
